

6516207632.txt

With Clearchannel and Infinity dominating most North American markets, the chances for alternative programming are nonexistent. Satellite radio provides an outlet for those who want more than top-40 programming. Surely, if the media giants wanted to beat XM and Sirius, they could do so the free market way and offer their own satellite services.